

Editor's notes

The second edition of Analytic Teaching on-line (Volume 25, number 2) brings some changes. First, as we are publishing articles and reviews as they come in and are accepted for publication, there will not be a separate section for reviews. In this issue, the book reviews will be the first three entries. We are also adding an author section that will be updated as each article or review is published. We will also be able to include a photograph of the author if you send us one electronically.

In the way of an announcement, ICPIC is having its biannual conference in Mexico this summer.
