

Editor's notes

You may have observed some of the quirkiness of publishing on-line. As I said when we began the process, the plan is to publish article as soon as the review processes is completed. I also write in these notes that we would publish as many issues per years (that is, volume) as we received accepted manuscripts. So on 2005 we had three issues, last year we had one issue, and this is the first issue this year. We would like to have more contributions, so keep the submission coming.

Another transition is beginning. I plan to retire in a couple of years. With that in mind, I have asked Jason Howard to assume the responsibilities of associate editor. It is my hope, and my plan, that Jason will, upon my retirement assume the responsibilities of editor. Just a few words about Jason. He earned is Doctorate frpm Université catholique de Louvainin, Belgium with a dissertation on Hegel. He has been teaching at Viterbo for the past three years and last summer train in Philosophy for Children at Mendham. Currently, he and I are working with students at the Boys and girls Club on a community of Inquiry project. Jason also serves on the AT editorial board.

One final note, Viterbo University will host the 8th NAACI conference during the summer of 2008. The conference will be jointly sponsored by the Departments of Philosophy and Psychology and the B.B. Reinhart Center for Ethical Leadership. Date will be determined early this summer. As soon as the dates are confirmed, we will send out a call for papers.
