Adjunct Faculty Webinar Series

Starting August 24th, 2015 we are kicking off our fall with a series of webinars intended to prepare and serve adjunct faculty needs.

For those who cannot attend, recordings will be available via http://www.viterbo.edu/vice-president-academic-affairs/adjunct-welcome following each webinar.

Instructions to join the live webinars will be sent upon registration.

Look for registration information coming soon regarding the following sessions:

- Increasing Social Presence in an Online Learning Community
- Effective Online Discussions
- Using Rubrics and Marking Guides for Assessment
- The Importance of Feedback in an Online Course
- Active Learning Strategies

Adjunct Orientation: The Keys You Need to Get Started

Description:
In this session for new adjunct instructors, we will help instructors get started by getting to know more about the University and how to prepare to teach their courses.

Date and time:
Monday, August 24th from 5:30-6:30pm

Register for the webinar at http://bit.ly/150824Adjunct

Overview of Viterbo University Campus Tools and Technologies

Description:
In this session we’ll provide an overview of tools and technologies essential to teaching and learning at Viterbo, including Office 365 Email and OneDrive (document sharing), VitNet (student information system), Starfish (student alert system), Ensemble (video storage), and EvaluationKIT (student evaluations).

Date and time:
Wednesday, August 26th from 5:30-6:30pm

Introduction to Moodle

Description:
This session will provide an in-depth introduction to Moodle for new users or those who have not used Moodle recently. We’ll walk through ways to use Moodle to communicate with students, share content, as well as grading, online discussions, and assignments.

Date and time:
Tuesday, September 1st from 5:30-6:30pm