The Dahl School of Business’s 4+1 MBA Program, which emphasizes ethical leadership for sustainable business, is a great opportunity for all students, regardless of major, and is completed in only one additional year of coursework.

Why should I consider Viterbo’s 4+1 MBA program as an undergraduate student?
• Ability to complete a reputable program in half the time normally spent on the MBA degree.
• Provides additional credits for accounting majors to sit for the CPA exam (150 credits needed).
• Strong student and alumni networks make finding a job easier.

When should I apply?
Students can apply for admission in or during their junior or senior year and are admitted on a provisional basis. Students cannot register for graduate level courses until they are accepted into the 4+1 program.

When are graduate classes offered?
Graduate classes are offered on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday evenings (typically 6–10 p.m.). There are also some online and blended courses available. The flexible scheduling allows the student to work part time while completing the degree.

What are the admission requirements?
Online application, one letter of recommendation, and essay.

The ideal applicant has 24 or less undergraduate credits remaining in their senior year. This allows a student to complete nine graduate level courses, which is over 25 percent of the program, prior to their undergraduate commencement, for a total cost savings of $5,355.

Katie Marti

“If you are on the fence about continuing your education straight out of undergrad, do not be, it can lead to great opportunities and maybe even land you a job in the process.

My MBA has continued to help me think outside the box, helped me build leadership skills before entering the workforce, and finally when applying for jobs after college, already having completed my MBA set me apart from other candidates.”

Dennis Benthin

“Being in the classroom with working adult professionals, and even CEOs, has been a phenomenal opportunity. It gave me a broad perspective of how concepts are applied in various industries. You can’t put a price tag on such insights or networking opportunities just by going to class.”
