2016 K-12 Collaborative Teacher Workshop
A Globally-Focused Workshop on Teaching and Learning for Children in Poverty

The University of Wisconsin Madison Institute for Regional and International Studies (IRIS) in partnership with Viterbo University and Northwoods International School will be hosting a 1-day collaborative curriculum workshop for community, K-12 educators, and others who interact with children living in poverty. This workshop is centered on questions of international opportunities related to serving children in poverty across the globe. All participants will hear from national presenters on this topic and develop skills and tools to serve our marginalized youth whose background puts them at an educational disadvantage.

WHEN: Thursday, August 4, 8:30 a.m. – 4:30 p.m.

WHERE: Viterbo University, La Crosse, WI

COST: $30 registration fee; includes lunch and teaching resources. Participants wishing to take the workshop for one Viterbo graduate credit will incur additional fees.

SPONSORS: Viterbo University, UW-Madison’s Institute for Regional and International Studies, Northwoods International School

REGISTRATION: Registration information will be coming soon.
