

JOYCE HEIL & CARL KOCH
NURSING SCHOLARSHIP
At Viterbo University
La Crosse, Wisconsin
BSN Program

History: Joyce graduated from Viterbo University in 1972 with a bachelor's degree in nursing. She was in the second class of BSN students at Viterbo University. Soon after graduation she knew that she wanted to teach nursing and specifically, teach nursing at Viterbo. After earning her MSN from St. Louis University, she did come back to teach at Viterbo. She taught for a total of 20 years.

Joyce's primary areas of instruction were Pathophysiology, Physical Assessment and Gerontology. These courses are courses taught at the sophomore or entry level into the Nursing program. Joyce loved working with beginning students. This was the foundational level and she knew that if students had a good foundation they could go on to become the nurses that the profession needed.
