Viterbo University
Todd Wehr Memorial Library

Technology and Equipment

Computers: The library has desktop computers in first-floor labs and in the instruction lab (M240) for use by Viterbo students, employees, and alumni. The instruction lab is reservable by faculty for classes. Black-and-white printers are located in the café, instruction lab, computer lab 115, and the first-floor hallway, which also prints in color.

Wireless access: The library has wireless access for Viterbo students and employees.

Laptop computers: The library has laptop computers available for check out.

Other Equipment: The library has Owl conference cameras, microphones, and more available for checkout. For additional information, please contact Circulation. Library equipment is for the shared use of Viterbo University faculty, students, and staff. No library equipment may leave the country or be checked out for an extended period without prior approval. All patrons must sign an equipment agreement before checking out any equipment from the library.