FIELD EDUCATION

The purpose of Social Work Field Education at Viterbo University is to prepare students for entry level social work practice by providing opportunities to reinforce social work values and ethics, apply knowledge and practice social work skills in an education focused practice setting. Field Education provides the opportunity to integrate empirical-based knowledge into practice and promote professional competence. The field program is systematically designed, supervised, coordinated and evaluated based on criteria by which students demonstrate the achievement of program competencies. In this block model, social work students spend a semester of the senior year completing a minimum of 450 hours, usually 30 hours per week for a 15 week period, in a Field Education Agency. Concurrent with SOWK 480 Field Education, students complete a three-credit integrative SOWK 482 Senior Capstone course on campus.

Field students are placed in an entry level setting and are provided structured individualized learning opportunities in generalist social work practice. Students are supervised by dedicated, well-qualified social work practitioners familiar with current trends in the profession. Each field education student is assigned a Viterbo University social work faculty liaison who collaborates with the student and agency instructor to facilitate the knowledge and practice transition from classroom to direct social work practice. Students are prepared for field education the semester before through a one-credit course SOWK 479 Field Education Preparation. In the Field Education Preparation seminar students apply for acceptance to field education, complete Wisconsin Caregiver Background check, interview with potential practicum agency and are matched to an agency based on their individual goals, agency opportunities and Field Program criteria.

The field experience places increased demands on students intellectually, emotionally, and professionally. Therefore, students should be adequately prepared to assume responsibility for and exhibit professional behavior by completing required criteria for admission to the Field Education Program, ongoing compliance with the Student Conduct Code and adhering to professional standards of the NASW Code of Ethics.

VITERBO UNIVERSITY SOCIAL WORK PROGRAM MISSION STATEMENT

The mission of the Viterbo University Social Work Program is to prepare baccalaureate students for entry level generalist social work practice. In an atmosphere of integrity and respect, students will develop professional knowledge, values, and skills for service provision and social change. The Program is guided by the Franciscan values of human dignity, social justice, strengths of diverse populations, and respect for disenfranchised members of our global society. Adopted 11-30-10

VITERBO UNIVERSITY SOCIAL WORK PROGRAM GOALS

The Social Work curriculum provides students the following by the end of their social work education:

Goal I: Prepare students for beginning generalist social work practice with individuals, families, groups, organizations and communities. (EP 2.1.3, EP 2.1.7, EP 2.1.9, EP 2.1.10)

Goal II: Prepare students for social work practice with diverse populations and cultures. (EP 2.1.4)

Goal III: Prepare students in the use of social work research to inform and evaluate practice. (EP 2.1.3, EP 2.1.6)

Goal IV: Prepare students for development of a professional identity consistent with social work values and ethics. (EP 2.1.1, EP 2.1.2)

Goal V: Prepare students to promote social and economic justice for disenfranchised groups through social change and advocacy. (EP 2.1.5, EP 2.1.8, EP 2.1.9)

NON-DISCRIMINATION STATEMENT

In all components of the Social Work Field Education Program, the following non-discrimination policy is strictly adhered to: It is the policy of Viterbo University not to discriminate against students, applicants for admission, or employees on the basis of sex, race, color, religion, national origin, ancestry, age, sexual orientation, or physical or mental disabilities unrelated to institutional jobs, programs, or activities. Viterbo University is a Title IX institution.

SECTION TWO: SOCIAL WORK FIELD PROGRAM

FIELD DIRECTOR RESPONSIBILITIES

The intent of the Field Education Program is to connect academic knowledge with the values and skills of actual social work practice thus insuring a high quality social work education for the student in accordance with CSWE Accreditation Standards (2008). The responsibilities of the Field Director are as follows:

1. Systematically design and review a field education curriculum that integrates the students’ classroom experience with the opportunity to practice social work in an agency setting.
   a. Design, regularly review and teach SOWK 479 Field Education Preparation.
   b. Develop, review and administrate field education courses, SOWK 480 Field Education and SOWK 482 Senior Capstone.
   c. Design and regularly review a Field Education Learning Contract and Evaluation Instrument that documents generalist practice opportunities and assesses the acquisition of the students’ practice behaviors.
   d. Collaborate with the Social Work Program Director to assign social work faculty members or adjunct faculty to serve as Faculty Liaisons and/or co-teach SOWK 482 Senior Capstone.
   e. Through regular communication, train, monitor and support faculty liaisons throughout field education.
   f. Negotiate challenges and investigate complaints or grievances related to field education and reports concerns to the Social Work Program Director.

2. Recruit, train and coordinate appropriate Field Education Agency settings and Instructors that provide opportunities for student development of generalist social work practice behaviors.
   a. Recruit and complete Agreement Contracts between Viterbo University and Field Education agencies according to the criteria established by the Social Work Program and maintain contracts, contact information and agency learning opportunities available to students.
   b. Assess potential Agency Instructors using the criteria established by the Social Work Program to certify each Agency Instructor as a Viterbo University Social Work Agency Instructor. Collect and maintain relevant information of each Agency Instructor.
   c. Create and deliver agency instructor and faculty liaison orientation and training to insure the integration of the academic curriculum into the practice experience for each field education student.
d. Provide oversight of the field education practicum by regular contact with students, agency instructors, and faculty liaisons, teaching SOWK 482 Senior Capstone, providing faculty liaison support and negotiating field concerns.

3. Design and coordinate a Field Education Practicum selection process.
   a. Provide students with information regarding the process and procedures of Field Education and potential agency setting placements.
   b. Provide potential agency instructors with information about the student(s) academic achievement, field education goals, relevant background experiences and other information as required to develop the individualized Learning Contract.
   c. Review student field education applications, meet individually with each student to assess field education goals and special needs, assign student to Field Education Agency interviews, review interview feedback from both agencies and students, and determine an agency practicum site for each qualified student.

4. Design, collect, analyze and share with constituencies a Field Education assessment plan and results.
   a. Design instruments and administer a field program evaluation of students, agency instructors, faculty liaisons and SOWK 482 Senior Capstone instructors.
   b. Compile and share field education evaluation results with Social Work Program Director and faculty, faculty liaisons, and the Advisory Board regarding the outcomes of the Field Program.
   c. Archive field evaluation data in Viterbo University TracDat system and share evaluation outcomes with University Assessment Program staff and Social Work Program faculty for continuous improvement of the field education program.

FACULTY LIAISON RESPONSIBILITIES

The Faculty Liaison assumes a key role in the field education experience as the liaison serves as the connection between the Social Work Program, the Field Agencies and the student. Assigned by the Field Director in consultation with the Social Work Program Director, the Faculty Liaisons are usually full time Social Work Program faculty who are in a strategic position to assure the integration of the academic curriculum into the field education experience. If a fulltime faculty member is not available and an adjunct faculty serves the liaison role with training and supervision provided by the Field Director. The Faculty Liaison coordinates with the Field Instructor and student to develop, implement and evaluate the individualized Learning Contract. The Faculty Liaison monitors the Learning Contract activities to ensure that the agency opportunities allow the student to practice the field education core competencies. The responsibilities of the Faculty Liaison are to:

1. Provide consultation to Agency Instructors about the Program’s academic curriculum, core competencies and practice behaviors of Field Education.
2. Communicate and meet with Agency Instructors early to discern educational goals of students, clarify questions regarding field education, and establish ongoing working relationships.
3. Monitor and review the development and implementation of the Learning Contract activities to ensure student opportunities to practice core competencies.
4. Collaborate with Agency Instructors to provide a field learning experience for the student, assuring maximum opportunities to practice generalist social work.
5. Respond promptly to Agency Instructors and students to resolve challenges and implement changes in the student’s field practicum and communicate concerns to the Field Director.
6. Arrange a minimum of three planned contacts with Agency Instructors and students during the semester to review the student’s progress in the practice of the core competencies. Additional conferences will be scheduled as needed upon the request of any party.
7. Consult with Agency Instructors to evaluate student progress in the practice of the core competencies and Learning Contract activities at midterm and at a final evaluation.
8. Grade students SOWK 482 Capstone assignments with instructive comments to the students’ work.
9. Document midterm and final core competency evaluation and submit signed Learning Contract with assessment ratings to the Field Director at the end of the semester.
10. Assess quality and effectiveness of instruction in the Field Education Agency.
FACULTY LIAISON AGENCY VISITS

The Faculty Liaison schedules a minimum of three field visits with the Agency Instructor and the student. Visits usually take place at the Field Agency but can take place at Viterbo University or another agreed upon location. The visits generally last 45–60 minutes, though the initial visit with the Learning Contract development may take longer.

Initial Visit
The first meeting takes place during the first or second week of semester. The purpose is to clarify reciprocal roles and responsibilities of the Faculty Liaison, Agency Instructor, and the student in order to facilitate the educational experience.

In the first meeting the draft Learning Contract is reviewed and individualized for the student and Field Agency with attention to realistic opportunities to learn and practice the core competencies. The student is responsible for Contract preparation, guided by the Agency Instructor and Faculty Liaison. In the Learning Contract the student drafts field activities and measures of practice behaviors with the Agency Instructor. The draft Learning Contract is discussed in the first Liaison meeting and revised by the student based on feedback from the Faculty Liaison and Agency Instructor. The Learning Contract is signed by each of the parties when each individual agrees that the designated agency activities will provide the student with opportunities to learn and practice the core competencies.

Mid-Term Visit
The second meeting is held in the middle of the semester to review the student’s progress using the practice behaviors and the agency activities indicated in the Learning Contract. The Agency Instructor completes the competency ratings on the Learning Contract and discusses their evaluation with the student during the Faculty Liaison visit.

Midterm is the time to evaluate progress in core competencies developed during the first half of the semester. The agency instructor, student and liaison assess which activities or practice behaviors have not yet occurred for the student. A plan to practice these core competency behavior is developed for the second half of the semester.

Final Visit
The third field meeting is held near the completion of the field education placement. The purpose is an overall evaluation of the student field education experience. Completing the competency ratings in the Learning Contract identifies the student strengths and significant practice behaviors demonstrated over the semester. A discussion regarding the future of the new social worker also occurs at this final evaluation session. The original Learning Contract signature page is signed and submitted to the Faculty Liaison. The Agency Instructor and student keep an electronic or paper copy of the completed Learning Contract.

SECTION THREE: THE FIELD EDUCATION AGENCY

STANDARDS TO QUALIFY FIELD EDUCATION AGENCIES

Viterbo Social Work Field Education Agencies agree to:

1. Contract with Viterbo University to provide Social Work Field Education.
2. Provide qualified staff, designated jointly by Viterbo University Social Work Program and the Field Education Agency, to provide instruction and supervision of a student.
3. Support the Agency Instructor with time to provide a minimum of one hour per week individual face to face supervision of the student.
4. Provide release time for the Agency Instructor and Task Supervisor to attend Viterbo Social Work Program orientation, training, field fair and senior capstone poster presentation.
6. Provide students an educationally-directed generalist social work practice experience with individuals, families, groups, organizations and the community.
7. Provide learning opportunities in the practice of the field education core competencies.
FIELD EDUCATION AGENCY RESPONSIBILITIES

Social Work Field Education Agencies serve a vital function in the preparation of future social workers. Responsibilities of Field Education Agencies are:

1. Provide a general orientation to the field agency for the students with regard to agency structure, policies, procedures, programs, services, recording and communication system(s) to facilitate the student’s adaptation to the agency.
2. Assist the student with Learning Contract development that includes designating opportunities and activities to gain social work practice in the core competencies.
3. Provide opportunities for the student to have early and regular contact with agency clientele.
4. Provide a non-discriminating environment.
5. Identify an agency instructor to supervise the student that meets the following qualifying standards.
   ▪ Hold an MSW degree plus 2 years postgraduate social work practice experience or a BSW degree plus five years post degree from a CSWE accredited social work program and social work practice experience.
     o A Task Supervisor, under the direction of the qualified Agency Instructor may provide day-to-day support and supervision of the student.
     o In situations where an agency can provide generalist practice field experiences but does not have social workers on staff or the social work staff does not have the required five years of experience, the Social Work Program Field Director will provide supplemental supervision to the student by a qualified individual.
   ▪ Demonstrate commitment to provide an educationally directed supervisory relationship and provide one hour per week individual face-to-face supervision.
   ▪ Commit to communicate formally and informally with the Viterbo Social Work Faculty Liaison and Field Director.
   ▪ Incorporate the NASW Code of Ethics, Viterbo Social Work Program mission and goals and Field Education Core Competencies into field education.

RESPONSIBILITIES OF AGENCY INSTRUCTOR

Agency Instructors provide critical linkage between agency and academia through on-site ongoing supervision, instruction, guidance, and evaluation of the student in the Field Education Agency. Agency Instructors assign the student guided, professional, direct social work experiences tailored to student’s individual needs and abilities. The learning opportunities incorporate generalist practice principles and provide opportunities for contact with diverse populations and populations at risk. In addition to the Field Agency Responsibilities listed above the Agency Instructor assumes the following responsibilities.

- Attend the Viterbo University Agency Instructor Training, Field Fair, and Senior Capstone Poster Session.
- Conduct a field interview with the student to evaluate the appropriateness of fit between the student and agency. Provide written feedback to the Field Director using the Agency Instructor’s Assessment of Field Interview Form.
- Demonstrate commitment to provide an education focused supervisory relationship by meeting with the student one hour per week in face-to-face supervision.
- If agreed upon by the Field Education Director and Agency Instructor, designate a task supervisor to enhance the support and supervision provided by the Agency instructor. The task supervisor, agency instructor, and faculty liaison work in collaboration to insure the goals, core competencies and standards of Field Education are central to the students’ field education.
- Use the Learning Contract to plan the students’ agency activities and provide support according to the student’s individual learning needs and the goals of the Social Work Field Program. Suggest appropriate agency activities by considering the student’s past experience, learning patterns, career expectations, and Field Program core competencies.
- Attend and participate in a minimum of three Faculty Liaison, Student, and Agency Instructor meetings per semester, regularly review the Learning Contract, and communicate with the Viterbo Faculty Liaison. Each week, initial the student’s Hours Record and review strengths and concerns regarding the week’s activities completed by the student.
- Review the students’ field integrative journal assignments and provide instructive comments.
Immediately inform the Faculty Liaison should concerns arise in the student’s performance and provide documentation.

Attend meetings with representatives from the Council on Social Work Education and provide feedback on the Field Education Program during Viterbo Social Work Program reaccreditation.

EMPLOYER AS AN EDUCATION SITE AND PAID FIELD EDUCATION

In order to ensure new learning in the field placement, no student may use a current place of employment as a field site. As the field practicum is an education directed experience, dual relationships in supervision are to be avoided. In the event that a field site wishes to offer a stipend or form of payment to the student the terms of the stipend or payment will be specified in writing with advance permission granted by the Field Director. To assure that all students have equal chance of obtaining a “paid” placement, the agency will indicate a stipend or payment will be available prior to the student interview process. Any form of payment to the student that is offered after the start of the field placement must be approved by the Field Director. In the case when an agency offers a student employment during their practicum semester, this offer will be discussed immediately with the Field Director. Decisions will be made regarding the appropriateness of payment or employment on a case-by-case basis. If permission is granted, a plan is developed that assures the integrity of 450 hours of field education. Employment is separate from field education including different assignments, activities and supervision.

SECTION FOUR: THE FIELD EDUCATION STUDENT

Social work majors who have completed all courses in the professional phase of the social work curriculum except field education courses may apply for Field Education. Because field students will be working directly with clients in a professional relationship, it is necessary that students meet standards for admission to Field Education including a Wisconsin Caregiver Background Check. Students with a history of criminal or civil court offenses, physical violence or sexual misconduct may be unemployable as a social worker and are ineligible for field education.

Admission to field education is limited by the number of certified agency sites. In the event that field applications exceed certified agencies, eligible students are accepted based on the number of total college credits completed. If the number of credits completed is similar, the cumulative GPA may be used in the field education admission decision. Qualified field education students who are not placed due to a lack of agencies will be placed in the subsequent semester.

SOWK 479: FIELD EDUCATION PREPARATION SEMINAR-1 credit

In order to facilitate students’ readiness for field, the students take a one-credit SOWK 479 Field Education Preparation seminar the semester before field education. SOWK 479 provides students with an overview of the Field Education experience and focuses on the activities necessary to obtain an approved Field Education practicum. The course meets for one hour per week and covers material regarding admission to Field Education, agency sites, placement process, agency interviews. The second half of the course readies the student for the actual practicum including field practice expectations, learning contracts, NASW Code of Ethics, and Senior Capstone course overview. Students will complete most of the course requirements outside of class. Course pre-requisite is senior standing in the social work program and concurrent enrollment or completion of social work core requirements except for SOWK 480 Field Education and SOWK 482 Senior Capstone.
STUDENT ADMISSION TO FIELD EDUCATION

Students will meet the following requirements before application to Field Education (SOWK 480):

1. Adherence to the Viterbo Social Work Program Code of Conduct (see page 19)
2. Cumulative grade point average of 2.5/4.0 or better and a social work GPA of 2.5/4.0 or better.
3. Completion of all foundation social work courses except SOWK 480 and 482. Students with extenuating circumstances may request special permission to enter Field Education with a grade of incomplete in one social work course. A written request will be submitted to the Field Director.
4. Students with 12 or fewer non-social work credits remaining before graduation may request permission to take those credits after the field education semester. This request is in writing and submitted with the Field application.
5. Submission of one copy of the current degree audit.
6. Complete all courses in progress with appropriate GPA.
7. Agree to continual adherence to the NASW Code of Ethics.
8. Maintenance of at least one year in recovery if student has a history of chemical dependency.
9. Demonstrate the ability to manage bio/psycho/social issues (e.g. legal issues, physical and mental illness, substance abuse, etc.) so that these issues do not impair professional judgment or ability to engage in competent beginning level practice with clients as outlined in the NASW Code of Ethics (1997) 4.05, 4.06
10. Approval of the social work faculty.
11. Completed application form for admission to Field Education.
12. Agree to Wisconsin Caregiver Background check to verify absence of criminal activity that would make the student unemployable as a social worker.
13. Complete Viterbo University Off-Campus Activity Waiver and Release of Liability Form and Viterbo University Medical Information for Off-Campus Activities Form.

FIELD EDUCATION APPLICATION PROCESS

Students seeking admission to social work Field Education will do the following:

Obtain a copy of the Viterbo University Field Education Handbook and submit the following materials to the Social Work Program administrative assistant by the required date:

- Complete application form and submit electronically.
- Current degree audit submitted electronically.
- Form completed and releases signed for Wisconsin Caregiver Background Check.

Upon receipt of all admission materials, the Field Director will:

- Review application materials.
- Require additional information or a screening interview with the Field Director or social work faculty.
- Notify applicants in writing of the decision regarding admission to Field Education.

Students have the right to appeal a denial of admission to Field Education according to the Viterbo University Social Work Program Grievance Procedure.

SCREENING INTERVIEW

Students may request or be invited to meet with the Field Director and social work faculty to determine the readiness of the student to enter Field Education. Students are admitted to Field Education after the completion of academic prerequisites, demonstrated personal development as described in the Student Code of Conduct and information from the social work faculty. If the student has not met the requirements the student will not be accepted for Field Education at this time.
SECTION FIVE: THE PLACEMENT PROCESS

The agency-student match is based on the student’s learning needs, interests, practice goals, and the availability of an appropriate Field Agency that will provide the student opportunities to learn and practice the field core competencies. Placing students is a structured process that allows the Field Director to balance the interests of the agencies, students, and the Social Work Program. Placing students in agencies occurs the semester prior to the start of field education and proceeds as follows:

1. Agency Instructors attend Training and Orientation.
2. Agency instructor and students attend the Field Fair and meet in short informational interviews to learn about agency services and possible student activities in the particular agency.
3. Students apply to Field Education and applications are reviewed by the Field Director.
4. Students meet individually with the Field Director to discuss their unique field education goals. Individual circumstances are considered, such as agency location, student expectations, family obligations, schedule, and transportation.
5. The Field Director reviews available field sites and determines interview agency for each student.
6. The agency instructor is informed of the interviews and sent the student’s field application.
7. Each student completes agency interview.
   ▪ The student arranges interview with the Agency Instructors.
   ▪ If the student fails to complete an assigned field interview the student will not be assigned to interview with another agency.
   ▪ If the field agency or instructor decline or withdraw from Field Education at this time, through no fault of the student, another interview agency is determined.
   ▪ If after three field interviews, a student is not matched to a practicum agency because of the students’ performance the student will be referred to the social work faculty for review of status in the Social Work Program.
8. Both the agency instructor and student provide written interview feedback to the Field Director.
9. The Field Director determines agency placement based on agency and student feedback in addition to information gained in the semester-long matching process.
10. The Field Director notifies the agency and the student of their placement with an electronic letter which officially confirms the placement.

Important Field Placement Information:

- All referrals for interviews are made by the Field Director. In no case may a student contact agencies for possible placement or self-refer for a placement interview. The final decision for placing the student is made by the Field Director.
- The purpose of the interview is to determine the suitability of the student for an educationally focused generalist practice directed field placement. The student is not interviewing for employment.
- In no case will an agency be asked to accept a student for Field Education when there are concerns by any party that the student may not meet minimum requirements.
- The ultimate responsibility for securing a field placement is the student’s responsibility. The Field Director facilitates the interview process but does not guarantee a placement for the student.
- It is the student’s responsibility to adhere to the schedule and deadlines for the field selection process as established by the Field Director and documented on the Field Calendar. The Viterbo University Field Director is under no obligation to secure a field interview or placement for students who do not adhere to the calendar.
SECTION SIX: THE FIELD EDUCATION SEMESTER

STUDENT ORIENTATION

Orienting the student to the Agency is very important to a successful start for everyone. Many things commonly taken for granted in the agencies are unfamiliar to students. The following checklist can help provide direction in structuring the orientation process with the student.

Before the Student Arrives

1. Let others in the agency know the student is arriving
2. Establish a work space for the student (desk/table, phone, computer, email access)
3. Order a name tag
4. Develop a list of abbreviations, symbols, and terminology unique to the agency context
5. Schedule trainings and meetings for the student with other key staff (e.g., administrative assistants, computer staff, phone training, copy machine instruction, etc.)
6. Have a local map available
7. Arrange materials—policy manuals, etc.
8. Provide directions and parking information

The First Day

1. Arrange time/place to meet student the first day
2. Provide an agency tour
3. Introduce key staff
4. Possible neighborhood tour
5. Informal information (lunches, staff gatherings, vending machines, bathrooms)

Agency Overview

1. Review agency vision and mission/purpose statement
2. Introductions to colleagues, support staff, and administration
3. Review organizational structure
4. Review the role of the agency in relation to the community and its resources
5. Review security and safety procedures and protocol

Agency Policies and Protocols - Review the following:

1. Office procedures, supplies, and provisions
2. Telephone and communication/computer utilization
3. Intake/admissions/eligibility policy and procedures
4. Internal communication
5. Parking details
6. Mileage policy
7. Agency, department, and/or unit meeting schedule
8. Client record/charting, policies and procedures
9. Form for documentation /accountability
10. Regulations regarding confidentiality, release of information, etc.
11. Client fees/payment schedule
12. Client emergency protocol
13. Child or elder abuse reporting protocol
14. Work schedule, including lunch and breaks
15. Information/referral policy
16. Agency policy regarding harassment and discrimination
17. Agency policy regarding the Americans with Disabilities Act and OSHA

Field Instructor/Student - Responsibilities Review the following:

1. Expectations for supervision and schedule
2. Plan for diversity/multi-cultural experiences
3. Plan for monitoring of student hours (by both Field Instructor and student)
SOWK 482: SENIOR CAPSTONE —3 Credits

Concurrent with Field Education, students are in SOWK 482 Senior Capstone. SOWK 482 is a three credit-hour course held once a week during the Field Education semester. The Capstone course has two components; first, a small group seminar led by the Faculty Liaison that is designed to support the unique needs of students in their field practicum. The second component of Capstone is organizational social work practice including ethics in agency settings, use of supervision, organizational dynamics and agency change processes. Both of the course components provide students the information and support needed for the transition from their academic knowledge, values and skills to generalist social work practice in their agency settings. For more information refer to the course syllabus for SOWK 482. SOWK 482 and SOWK 480 Field Education are concurrent courses. Students will complete both courses successfully to graduate from the Social Work Program. See the Field Education Handbook page 22-23 regarding field education and course appeal or grievance policies.

SUPERVISION IN FIELD EDUCATION

The relationship between the student and Agency Instructor is essential to the field education process. Each week, the Agency Instructor schedules and provides one hour of face-to-face supervision to the student. In the event that the Agency Instructor does not schedule supervision, the student is expected to request a session. Initial supervisory sessions focus on the orientation to the agency and review of the primary responsibilities of Agency Instructors and students.

The student is expected to be prepared for the supervisory session by giving thought to issues for discussion regarding agency activities, course assignments and personal learning needs. Through supervision, the student can identify and discuss feelings, attitudes and concerns encountered in the agency. Students should be encouraged to assess their practice behavior strengths and challenges through positive as well as instructive feedback. Students provide the Agency Instructor regular integrative journals which can be discussed at the supervision sessions.

Supervisory Relationship

At the beginning of field placement, the Agency Instructor models empathy and understanding to clarify roles and expectations. The student begins to understand how professional supervision differs from other types of supervision. The Agency Instructor formulates a beginning assessment of the student’s level of core competencies and practice behaviors. This initial assessment provides a basis for assigning suitable and manageable agency activities that will teach and offer the opportunity to practice generalist social work. In this process the Agency Instructor becomes acquainted with the student’s abilities, experiences, and learning style.

In addition to the Agency Instructor, the student maybe assigned a Task Supervisor, an agency social worker or employee who works directly with the student providing case-based support and guidance. In this situation the task supervisor, agency instructor, and faculty liaison work in collaboration to assure that the student is provided formal supervision, learning opportunities and agency activities to allow the student to practice social work.

Supervised Agency Activities

Once agency orientation is completed and the Learning Contract developed, the Agency Instructor begins assigning actual “cases” or learning activities. A student’s first cases are often task-oriented, an opportunity for students to learn their role in the agency and begin to gain confidence in working with a client. If possible, the presenting concerns of the first cases are concrete and can be resolved through contacts within the agency or community resources, so the student can experience tangible success. This learning process gradually eases the student into social work practice, builds self-confidence, and prepares the student for more difficult challenges and building toward the field core competencies.

Students may share in the responsibility of a complex case with a staff member. Working on cases with agency social workers is a way to learn policies, procedures, and agency documentation. Keep in mind that the student is not being trained to work for the specific agency alone but to learn generalist social work practice skills that can be applied to variety of settings. Students can provide value-added client services beyond the time constraints of staff such as home visits, mentoring youth, and supervised visits.
Students need guidance when assigned their first cases. Student anxiety will be decreased if the Agency Instructor or task supervisor helps the student deal with their concerns or fears in the supervisory sessions. Take time to prepare students before their first client contact or activity and review the experience with them when it is completed.

Weekly supervision provides on-going evaluation and progress in the development of the student’s practice behaviors. Students will then be well aware of any issues or concerns prior to the formal evaluation at midterm and final.

- Communicate the attitude that students are learners and not workers.
- Invite students to feel comfortable with their learning status and to take advantage of educational opportunities.
- Be direct and honest in evaluating the students’ work.
- Help the student view evaluation as crucial to their practice development.
- Be open with sharing your own learning experiences in the field. This helps students realize that Agency Instructors were students once and that supervisors are also still learning.
- Schedule ample supervision time for both case discussion and processing of the students experiences in practicing social work.
- Arrange for back-up supervision when you are not available.

PROFESSIONAL PRACTICE IN FIELD EDUCATION

In addition to adherence to the Viterbo University Social Work Program Student Professional Development, Retention and Termination Policy (pp. 18-19) and the Student Code of Conduct for Ethical and Professional Behavior (pp. 19-21) included in this handbook, students will abide by the following practices during field education.

Field Hours:

Field Education begins the first day of the semester and ends the last day of classes of the semester.

- In no case will a student begin field education before the first day of the semester nor extend field hours beyond the last day of finals.
- In no case may students end their field placement before the Friday of the last week of classes even if their 450 hours have been completed.
- The Social Work Field Education Program does not require students to complete field work during Viterbo University Spring Break, although students may choose to complete field hours during Break.
- Students are expected to contact the Agency Instructor in case of illness or family emergency. Neither illness nor family emergency will reduce the required 450 hours to complete education.
- There may be times when the demands of field exceed 30 hours per week and the student may accumulate compensatory time with Agency Instructor approval.
- Students are usually allowed to take holidays listed on the Viterbo University calendar that fall on field days if they make the Agency Instructor aware of these holidays in advance. The student is usually allowed holidays observed by the Field Education Agency.
- It is the student's responsibility to manage their field hours so that 450 hours and their field education responsibilities are completed by the end of the semester.
- It is the student's responsibility to obtain the initials of the Agency Instructor on the Hours Record at the end of each week in field. The Hours Record is turned in to the Faculty Liaison at the end of the semester before Field Education credit is granted.
- SOWK 482 Senior Capstone course work will be completed outside of field hours and, ordinarily, students will not be asked to fulfill field obligations during the Senior Capstone Course time.
- In extraordinary circumstances and with permission of the Field Director an alternate field schedule may be allowed for the student who submits a specific request one semester in advance of the Field Education practicum.
Liability Insurance: Viterbo University provides liability insurance for social work students during the Field Education course beginning the first day of the semester and ending on the last day of finals. A student may purchase liability insurance at their own cost (NASW provides liability insurance for practicum students at a reasonable cost).

Transportation: Students will provide their own transportation to and from the agency. Transportation and insurance will meet agency criteria.

Dress: The student is expected to dress according to the agency’s dress code policy.

Confidentiality: The student, under no circumstances, is to discuss clients or agency information outside the agency. If the student uses client-related material in class, it will be carefully disguised so no one can identify the client or others whose privacy might be disclosed.

Termination: Ending the practicum with the Field Education Agency may be initiated by the student, Field Agency, or the Viterbo University Social Work Program. The ending will be planned with the Field Director and the student will appropriately terminate contact with clients and complete documentation as the Field Agency specifies.

Alcohol/Substance Use: The student will pass drug screens as required by the agency or the Social Work Field Education Program. Students refrain from illegal drug use and demonstrate behavior consistent with the policies of Viterbo University, the Field Education agency, and the NASW Code of Ethics.

SAFETY

It is recognized that students cannot be insulated from the risks of providing services to people, institutions and communities in crisis. Students frequently lack the experience and skills that help seasoned practitioners assess risk and take appropriate precautions. The following safety practices are offered as basic guidelines for Field Education:

Orientation: The Social Work Program requests that all field agencies provide a student orientation that includes discussion about safety, high-risk situations and violence issues that are relevant to the individual agency. Items for inclusion in this orientation might include but are not limited to; building and office security, emergency procedures (including when and how to summon security or police assistance), safety on home visits and in the surrounding service communities, and staff procedures for management of violent or potentially violent clients. The orientation may take the form of a formal presentation, and will include an individual student session that reviews existing agency safety policies and procedures and presents an opportunity for the student and field instructor to discuss these issues in depth.

Incident Report: If an incident occurs during field education in which a student is personally threatened or hurt, the student, Agency Instructor, or agency director will immediately contact the Field Director. The Field Director will identify what actions the agency and Viterbo University will take to insure the student's physical and emotional well-being. The Field Director is responsible for documenting the incident and the steps taken to resolve the situation. A copy of this report will be forwarded to the Social Work Program Director.

Home Visits: It is important for students to know and always be aware of the agency safety and security protocol for office and home visits with clients. In the absence of formal policies, the Agency Instructor and the student will discuss issues related to safety and security in the setting and develop a safety plan.

Security of Belongings: Students are expected to have a secure place to keep handbags and other belongings while in their field placements. It is preferable that the space be one that can be locked, a desk drawer or file cabinet. It is best not to leave handbags and other personal articles visible and unattended, even in an office with the door closed. Valuables will not be brought to placement setting, left in cars or placed in view.

Client Safety: When working with clients, it is important to remember that the change process often makes people feel vulnerable and may challenge their usual coping mechanisms. With some people, this can contribute to challenges with impulse control and can raise issues of safety for the client, the social worker and others. There may be times when students work with individuals who have difficulty with reality testing, dealing with overwhelming emotions, and controlling their anger. Some individuals may be prone to violence and may possess a weapon. Other clients may be intoxicated, high on drugs, in withdrawal, or may have other medical or neurological disorders. Again, we emphasize that students consult with Agency Instructors regarding preparation for and handling specific situations that are potentially difficult or threatening, such as medical emergencies, suicide or homicide risks, potential abuse of others and the presence of weapons.

Safe Client Meetings: When a student is scheduled to meet with a client with whom the student does not feel safe, it is important to discuss the situation fully with the Agency Instructor in advance of the meeting. When considering the location of the meeting, it might be helpful to think about:

- a. What is in the room
- b. Whether there is more than one exit
- c. Where each person might sit
- d. Whether to include someone else in the meeting
- e. What to wear
- f. Whether to leave the door ajar

If the meeting is planned for a neutral place or the student is accompanied by another social worker or professional, an itinerary including location, phone number, and time of visit will be left with the Agency Instructor. Make home visits during the early part of the day.

Safe Car Travel: When a student is traveling by car to an agency or to home visits, it is advisable to know the location of the destination, and map the route before driving to unfamiliar areas. In general, remember to be alert, lock doors, close windows, and have a full tank of gas.

Safe Travel by Foot or Public Transportation: When traveling by foot or public transportation, it is advisable that students carry the least amount of valuables as possible. Money, licenses, keys, and other essentials might be carried in a pocket. If a handbag or other item is grabbed, it is best to let go of it. Dress in comfortable clothes that are loose fitting, and wear sturdy, flat walking shoes. Remain alert and walk with a purpose with a clear destination and awareness of people in the immediate area.

Siegel, Marci, Director of Field Education. (1996). Graduate Field Placement Instructor Manual.

AGENCY CONCERNS

Acceptance of Gifts: As a student of Viterbo University and as a professional in the field of social work, you may not accept gifts or gratuity of any kind (money, clothing, food discounts, and memberships) from an individual or agency as the result of your position in the field agency. Students are strictly prohibited from borrowing money or belongings from consumers, clients or colleagues under any circumstances. Due to the appearance of impropriety students will not cash checks for clients.

Sexual Harassment: Sexual Harassment is defined as unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, or other physical conduct of a sexual nature when:

- Submission to such conduct is made either explicitly or implicitly as a term or condition of an individual’s employment.
- Submissions to or rejection of such conduct by an individual is used as the basis for employment decisions affecting the individual, or such conduct has the purpose or effect of creating a hostile or offensive working environment.
- Such conduct has the purpose or effect of creating a hostile or offensive working environment.

All incidents of sexual harassment must be immediately reported to your Agency Instructor and the Viterbo University Social Work Field Director.
REPORTING OF CHILD ABUSE AND NEGLECT

Viterbo University prioritizes safety and strives to provide a safe learning environment for everyone. Children under the age of 18 come into contact with Viterbo University employees and volunteers through various programs, camps, and events.

All Viterbo University employees must report if an employee, in the course of employment, observes an incident or threat of child abuse or neglect, or learns of an incident or threat of child abuse or neglect, and the employee has reasonable cause to believe that child abuse or neglect has occurred or will occur. This includes abuse or neglect that occurs off campus and/or at a child’s home, if a Viterbo University employee observes or learns about it in the course of his or her employment.

A person with knowledge of child abuse or neglect must report to the county department of human/social services or to law enforcement (county sheriff or the police department of the city, village, or town). A verbal or written report must be made as soon as possible, but no later than 24 hours after learning of the incident.

The employee should also report the incident to the Vice President for Academic Affairs, Vice President for Student Development, Human Resource Director, or the Vice President of Finance and Administration as soon as possible. The Vice President for Academic Affairs, Vice President for Student Development, Human Resource Director, or the Vice President of Finance and Administration shall, in turn, report the incident to the President as soon as possible. The official repository for all incident reports will be with the Vice President for Academic Affairs.

These reporting requirements are mandatory, and are not optional. Any Viterbo University employee who fails to report suspected child abuse or neglect in violation of this policy is in violation of this requirement and may also be found to be in violation of other applicable and related work rules. Those who fail to comply with this reporting requirement may be subject to disciplinary action up to, and including, termination of employment.

All Viterbo University employees should treat information regarding suspected abuse or neglect as sensitive and confidential and share it only with appropriate individuals, such as the agencies to whom reports are to be made and appropriate University officials.

A Viterbo University employee making a report of child abuse or neglect in good faith will not be discharged from employment, disciplined or otherwise discriminated against in regard to employment, or threatened with any such treatment because that employee made a report in good faith.

Any Viterbo University employee who is a mandatory reporter under Wisconsin, Minnesota, and/or Iowa state statutes must comply with the requirements of a state mandatory reporter law.

All questions or concerns regarding this matter should be directed to one of the named administrators listed above.

FORMAL EVALUATION

Social work practice evaluation is an ongoing process that starts with the student's first day in the field agency and culminates in a final evaluation at the end of the semester. Ongoing evaluation of the student's progress in developing the core competencies is a built-in aspect of supervision. Students are expected to develop the ability to evaluate their own practice throughout the field experience with specific assessment measures articulated in the Learning Contract. As a result of regular discussion, guidance and support, the student will know what to expect in the evaluation meetings. Formal evaluation occurs at midterm and final through a meeting with the Faculty Liaison, Student and Agency Instructors. The Learning Contract and practice behavior rating scale serve as the evaluation instrument. The Agency Instructor and student complete the Learning Contract competency ratings prior to the meeting with the Faculty Liaison. The meeting can then be used to discuss overall student progress and plan for additional practice opportunities with the Faculty Liaison.

GRADING

The Faculty Liaison assigns the grade, credit or no credit for SOWK 480 Field Education. Grades are based on the collaborative assessment of the students’ field education performance of the practice behaviors by the Agency Instructor and Faculty Liaison. A grade of “credit” indicates that the student performed at an overall satisfactory level for the field education course. Students will be informed of their grade status at midterm and at the final evaluation.

ENDING FIELD PLACEMENT

Students may start to experience increased anxiety, along with positive anticipation, during the final weeks of their field practicum. Students maybe concerned whether they will accomplish all the agency activities in the time that is left. Or the student also becomes focused on their own impending life changes. It is important to respond directly to indicators of ambivalence, avoidance, anxiety, and withdrawal as expected ending responses. By discussing endings and transitions in the supervisory relationship and the parallel process that occurs with clients, the student develops the ability to deal with the ending phase of professional practice.

Students are required to remain at the agency until the last day of the Viterbo University semester. Students will submit their Hours Record and completed Learning Contract for Agency Instructor approval in order to receive credit for the course. It is the student’s responsibility to ensure that the signed Learning Contract with final evaluation scores and signed Hours Record are returned to the Faculty Liaison by the last day of the semester.
SEC
TION SEVEN:  STUDENT RIGHTS AND PROGRAM POLICIES

VITERBO UNIVERSITY SOCIAL WORK PROGRAM

STUDENT PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT, RETENTION AND TERMINATION POLICY

The social work major at Viterbo University is a professional program which requires that students meet standards of academic and professional comportment. Becoming a professional social worker involves maturation of a professional identity in addition to academic success. The Viterbo University Social Work Program is committed to assisting students in their development as a professional social worker. The National Association of Social Workers (NASW) Code of Ethics and the Council on Social Work Education (CSWE) Educational and Accreditation Policy serve as the guiding documents in this process. Professional development occurs over the duration of the social work curriculum, throughout all social work courses including field education. Students become familiar with the expectations and requirements of professional social work practice throughout the major and are provided multiple opportunities to develop professionally.

The Social Work Program uses a developmental process to assist students in reaching their goal of becoming a social worker. The process is educationally focused, supportive and directive. Professional social work standards and expectations are detailed in the Social Work Program Student Handbook and Field Education Handbook, course syllabi and other documents. In each core social work course students learn about professional expectations through the NASW Code of Ethics which specifies the standards for appropriate social work practice. Students are offered opportunities to observe and practice professional behaviors in a number of increasingly complex social work settings. The social work curriculum facilitates individual growth and empowers each student to become a unique practitioner grounded in the values and standards of the social work profession. Students are encouraged to share challenges and questions about their professional development with faculty at any time.

Procedures for Professional Development, Retention and Termination

It is the intention of the Social Work Program to facilitate and support the success of students through a collaborative professional development process. Students are expected to be proactive in communicating to the social work faculty concerns or personal changes which may affect their professional development and success.

The process utilized by the Viterbo University Social Work Program to support students to develop an identity as a social work professional is operationalized as follows:

- Students are encouraged to meet individually with their advisor and/or instructors throughout their academic program to discuss issues, questions, and challenges related to academic and professional success in the major. It is important that students inform their advisor or instructor of any concerns that may affect their professional development.
- Upon application to the Professional Phase of the Social Work Program, students receive and are asked to sign the Viterbo University Social Work Program’s Student Code of Conduct which articulates the ethical and professional behaviors expected of students in the program.
- The Social Work faculty holds regular program meetings where concerns are discussed that may be affecting students’ success. These concerns may be brought forward by students, classroom instructors, academic advisors, agency field instructors, faculty field liaisons, or other Viterbo University employees. The purpose of these faculty discussions is to provide opportunity for early intervention to support student success. If there are issues identified that could be a barrier to professional development and academic success the faculty may contact the student to discuss the issues further.
- At the end of each semester the Social Work Faculty reviews the progress of each student utilizing the Student Code of Conduct and course policies to guide this review in light of each individual student situation.
- If there are significant concerns that are identified at any time during the professional phase of the social work program, the student may be put on “Conditional Standing” in the social work program. Students are directed to meet with his/her academic advisor or other members of the social work faculty and discuss steps to address the concerns and review university resources available to support student success. Ultimately it is the student’s responsibility to demonstrate behaviors that address the identified concerns.

- The NASW Code of Ethics, the Student Code of Conduct, standards for admission to field education, performance in field or specific course expectations are used to determine progress toward addressing the identified concerns. If the identified concerns are not resolved, the faculty may be required to make decisions about the suitability of a student for the social work profession.
- All students on “Conditional Standing” will be formally reviewed by the faculty minimally at the end of each semester to determine whether a student should be continued “Conditionally” under the current or revised plan, moved to “Good Standing”, advised to change majors or formally dismissed from the Social Work Program. If dismissed, the student’s academic advisor would assist the student in selecting a new major.
- The Social Work Program retains the right to dismiss a student without placing a student on “conditions” if there is an egregious violation of the NASW Code of Ethics, the Student Code of Conduct or other student behavior that would prohibit the individual from being credentialed as a professional social worker.
- Students who are not in agreement with the social work faculty’s decision can utilize the Social Work Program Appeal Process.

(Adopted 7-21-09, Revised 6-25-14)

VITERBO UNIVERSITY SOCIAL WORK PROGRAM
STUDENT CODE OF CONDUCT

Purpose
The Viterbo University Social Work Program is committed to assisting students in their development as a professional social worker. Professional development occurs over the duration of the social work curriculum, throughout all social work courses including field education. Students become familiar with the expectations and requirements of professional social work practice throughout the major and are provided multiple opportunities to develop professionally.

The Social Work Program is a professional academic program. Therefore, the faculty has a responsibility to the standards of the profession, to the Field Education agencies, to the students, and ultimately, to the clients our students are educated to serve. It is with these obligations in mind that the following standards are implemented.

The standards and criteria for the Student Code of Conduct are based on numerous sources, including the NASW Code of Ethics, the Council on Social Work Education (CSWE) Educational Policy and Accreditation Standards and the social work education literature.

Professional Standards
CSWE requires that social work programs have policies and standards to determine students’ competency and readiness for professional social work practice (EP. 2.1.1 and AS 3.2.7, 2008). What follows are the ethical and professional behaviors that students are expected to demonstrate in the Professional Phase of the Social Work Program. Behavior that does not meet these standards may indicate that a student requires development or support to follow the standards of the NASW Code of Ethics and the behavioral criteria of the Social Work Program. The following is not intended to be all-inclusive and will be used as guide for faculty to review student progress. Students who do not meet these standards will be reviewed by the social work faculty and may be placed on “Conditional Standing” or dismissed from the Social Work Program.

Student Code of Conduct for Ethical and Professional Behavior

The following student standards are indicators of the requisite knowledge, values and skills of a developing professional social worker. Students will pledge their adherence to this Code of Conduct upon application to the professional phase of the Social Work Program.
Accountability: The student demonstrates responsibility to profession, field agency, colleagues, clients, faculty, student peers and self.

- Comes to class and field agency on time and prepared, with readings and assigned work complete.
- Turns in assignments and field tasks complete and on time.
- Makes arrangements for his/her special needs.
- Abides by course attendance policies and follows the University and Field Education calendar.
- Actively participates in discussion and activities in class and in the field agency.
- Is responsible to peer group or field colleagues with assignments/tasks completed at the student’s current developmental level.
- Engages in proper physical contact with peers, faculty, co-workers and clients.
- Engages in personal behavior that does not impede academic and field responsibilities.

Communication: The student strives to improve verbal and written communication with instructors, peers and clients.

- Practices positive, constructive, respectful and professional communication skills with peers, instructors and field individuals.
- Demonstrates developing skill in correct spelling, proper use of punctuation, clear structure, paragraphing, organization and logical sequence in written assignments and client records.
- Demonstrates ability to communicate verbally through clear articulation of ideas, thoughts and concepts.

Competence: The student applies self to all academic and field pursuits seriously and conscientiously. The student constantly strives to improve abilities.

- Comes to class with books, handouts, syllabus and necessary learning tools.
- Takes responsibility for the quality of academic and field work, tests and assignments.
- Demonstrates ability to work cooperatively with others.
- Demonstrates developing judgment, decision-making and problem-solving skills.
- Forms effective client-social worker relationships.
- Uses critical thinking skills in academic and field work.
- Accepts constructive feedback from peers, faculty and field agency instructor.

ENDING OR MOVING STUDENT DURING PLACEMENT

In the event of serious difficulties during field education, the Field Agency, Agency Instructor, Faculty Liaison or the student may request or require that a student be moved from the agency prior to the conclusion of the semester. If the student or any of the involved field education professionals have serious concerns regarding a placement the Faculty Liaison will be contacted as soon as concerns are identified. The Faculty Liaison will expeditiously determine the most appropriate action for this placement situation. The Liaison will document the circumstances of the situation, actions taken, and final decision, including a written statement from the Field Agency. This document is provided to the Field Director with specific recommendations regarding continuation in field education. Possible recommendations could include, but are not limited to, moving the student to another agency unit, assigning a different field instructor or task supervisor, placement in a different field education agency or discontinuation of field placement.

After thorough review the Field Director will determine if another field placement is advisable. If the student continues in field education, a new timetable will be established for completion of the required 450 hours. If the decision is made to discontinue a student in field education or it becomes impossible to enlist a placement agency for the student a Field Education course grade of no credit will be given for SOWK 480 Field Education. Next, the field situation will be referred for regular Program review by the faculty.

A student choosing to appeal this action will follow the Academic Due Process policy in the Viterbo University Student Handbook. If a student withdraws from SOWK 480 Field Education within the time permitted by the University, the student must notify the Field Director. Subsequent enrollment in SOWK 480 would require reapplication to Field Education.

FIELD EDUCATION APPEAL PROCEDURES

The Field Education appeal procedure will provide adjudication of grievances for field students and any of the Field Education Professionals (Agency Instructor, Task Supervisor, Faculty Liaison, or Field Director) regarding the following: Field Education interview decisions, Field Education matching decisions, termination of Field Education, dismissal from Field Education, or other Field Education conflicts or decisions. (Appeals regarding grades should follow the academic due process policy of the Viterbo University Student Handbook.)

Other matters regarding the student’s education and welfare will be referred to the appropriate Viterbo University policy including the Viterbo University Social Work Program Student Professional Development, Retention and Termination Policy (pg. 18).

The following steps will be taken by the student and/or Field Professional in order to expedite a satisfactory and acceptable solution to the parties involved in the grievance:

STEP 1:
1. Initial discussion of the appeal should take place between the student and the Agency Instructor.
2. If the issue cannot be resolved a conference should take place with the student, Agency Instructor, and the Faculty Liaison.
3. If the issue is still unresolved, the Field Director will be consulted by any of the parties involved. Then a conference will be arranged with the individuals involved in the situation.
4. Every effort will be made to resolve the issue at this level. However, if the issue cannot be resolved at Step 1, Step 2 will be initiated.

STEP 2:
1. An grievance letter will be presented to the Field Director. The letter will contain the following:
   a. Explanation of issue
   b. Timeframe and dates of situation
c. Steps taken to resolve the issue by each of the parties involved
2. Upon receipt of the appeal letter, the Field Director will arrange:
   a. Individual meetings with the student, Agency Instructor, Faculty Liaison and other involved parties.
   b. A conference with all parties involved based on the outcome of the individual meetings.
3. If the issue cannot be resolved at Step 2, Step 3 will be initiated

STEP 3:
1. The grievance letter, the Field Director’s written assessment of Step 2, and other supporting documentation will be presented to the Social Work Program Director.
2. A conference may be arranged with the student, Agency Instructor, Faculty Liaison, Field Director and the Social Work Program Director.
3. Any issue that cannot be resolved at this level will advance to the Viterbo University Social Work Program procedures for review and action decision.

VITERBO UNIVERSITY SOCIAL WORK PROGRAM GRIEVANCE AND APPEAL PROCESS

Appeals may include, but are not limited to the mistreatment by faculty, adjunct faculty, or staff, decisions regarding admission to or dismissal from the Social Work Program, being placed on conditions, field education decisions, discrimination on the basis of age, race, religion, color, sex, physical condition, disability, sexual orientation, national origin or other improper treatment. Grades in specific courses may be grieved following the Grade Appeals procedure outlined in the Viterbo University Student Handbook.

The following procedures are applicable for a student with an appeal request:
1. Discuss the issue with the person(s) alleged to have caused the grounds for the appeal.
2. If the matter is not resolved after discussion with the person(s) involved, the student should contact the Social Work Program Director to discuss the matter.
3. If the matter is not resolved after discussion with the Social Work Program Director, the student may request that the matter be reviewed by the Social Work Program Appeals Committee. Such a request shall be made in writing, and must be received by the Social Work Program Director within 15 working days of the discussion of the matter with the Program Director.
4. The Social Work Program Director shall convene a four member Appeals Committee appointed for this purpose. Committee members shall include the Chair of the Department of Sociology, Social Work and Criminal Justice or his/her designee, a Social Work Practitioner designated by the Social Work Program Director and a senior level social work student elected by the senior class. The Social Work Program Director will serve as an ex officio member of the Appeals Committee.
   a. The student shall present the appeal in writing to the Committee with any necessary documentation. Additional evidence may also be presented orally.
   b. A copy of the appeal shall be presented to the aggrieved party who in turn shall present in writing a response with any necessary documentation. After studying the written documentation, the Committee shall meet separately with the student and the aggrieved party.
   c. If desired, either or both parties may have legal or other counsel in attendance at hearings in an advisory capacity only; other than advising his/her client, counsel shall not play a participating role in the proceeding.
   d. The committee shall meet in closed session.
   e. The committee shall submit its findings and recommendations in writing to both parties of the dispute.

The decision of the Social Work Program Appeals Committee may be brought by either party to the Dean of the School of Letters and Sciences for review. The request for review must be written and submitted to the Dean within two weeks of the decision by the Appeals Committee. After considering the matter, the Dean may grant or deny the review and shall notify both parties of the decision within one week of this review.
1. This contract is between the Viterbo University Social Work Program, (hereinafter called the “Social Work Program”) located at 900 Viterbo Drive, La Crosse, Wisconsin, and

b. This agreement may be revised by mutual consent.
   i. Revisions shall be expressed in writing, signed by both parties, and attached to this agreement as a rider.

c. Termination of the agreement:
   i. Either party may terminate this agreement by giving one semester’s written notice to the other party. Such action, however, shall not affect students already enrolled in the Field Education course.

2. Purpose:
   a. The following agreement is to clarify the joint and separate responsibilities between the Agency and the Social Work Program at Viterbo University as it relates to providing field instruction for students in the BS or BA Social Work Program.

3. It is mutually agreed that:
   a. The purpose of the Field Education with an approved Agency is to provide educational experiences for social work students.
   b. The Agency will have the right to reject any student who, in the Agency’s judgment, does not meet its criteria for placement.
   c. There shall be no discrimination against students on the basis of age, race, religion, color, handicap, sex, physical condition, developmental disability, sexual orientation, or national origin.
   d. Both the Agency and Viterbo University are committed to maintaining a learning environment which is free from harassment, including sexual harassment.

4. Social Work Program responsibilities:
   a. Social Work Program agrees to:
      i. assign a Faculty Liaison to collaborate between the student, the Agency, and the Social Work Program and to inform the Agency in a timely manner the name of that Faculty Liaison.
      ii. provide the Agency, prior to student placement, relevant information about the student’s academic achievement and previous work experience, making a reasonable effort to select students for field who meet any exceptional criteria specified by the Agency.
iii. select qualified Agency Instructors (the person responsible for assigning tasks and supervising the student in the Agency) that meet the Council on Social Work Education Field Education Standards and provide periodic training workshops for those Agency Instructors.

iv. provide all Agency Instructors with a “Viterbo University Field Education Handbook” which includes relevant information about the Social Work Program, policies and procedures as they relate to Field Education, the Learning Contract which describes core competencies with corresponding practice behaviors to be developed in field education, and evaluation tools for assessing student performance.

v. provide the student educational supplemental supervision by a qualified social worker in the case when the agency that does not have a qualified Agency Instructor to provide the student professional social work supervision.

vi. provide liability coverage for participating Social Work Program employees and students beginning on the first day of the semester and ending on the last day of the semester.

vii. hold harmless the Agency and its employees from any and all claims, losses, or expenses, including attorney’s fees, arising out of injury to any third party, including claims for professional negligence or claims for injury to Agency employees, or any other claims by third parties, except to the extent such injury is due to the fault of the Agency, its agents or employees.

viii. hold harmless the Agency and its employees from any and all claims, losses, or expenses, including attorney’s fees arising out of injury to any student or Social Work Program employee while participating in Field Education, except to the extent such injury is due to the fault of the Agency, its agents or employees.

b. The Social Work Program makes no agreement to supply any specific number of students to the Agency, and the Agency makes no agreement to accept a specified number of students from the Social Work Program.

5. Cooperating Agency responsibilities:
   a. The Agency agrees to:
      i. abide by the National Association of Social Workers Code of Ethics and maintain standards which make it eligible for approval as a field instruction facility in keeping with guidelines set by the Council on Social Work Education.
      ii. provide generalist social work practice opportunities for the student, including participation in overall Agency programs and activities as appropriate to developing the social work core competencies of Field Education.
      iii. furnish in writing to the Social Work Program Field Director any exceptional criteria it considers necessary for the selection of a student placed with the Agency.
      iv. participate in the Social Work Program’s procedure for matching student and Agency.
      v. assign an Agency Instructor to provide professional supervision to the student.
      vi. provide the Agency Instructor sufficient time for planning, supervision, training, and evaluation of the student.
      vii. assign a Task Supervisor to support and guide the day-to-day activities of the student if determined appropriate by the Agency Instructor and Faculty Liaison.
      viii. inform the student’s Faculty Liaison in a timely manner, of any difficulties a student is having which might result in termination of the placement or a failing grade. The Agency will be responsible for documenting student difficulties and efforts to remedy the situation.
      ix. guarantee the student’s right to refuse any assignment which the student deems too dangerous to complete at the time.
      x. provide the use of Agency facilities as necessary to accomplish the learning task and the student’s responsibilities in the Agency. (This includes mileage reimbursement for students following the usual standards and practices of Agency employees.)
      xi. inform the Social Work Program Field Director, in a timely manner, of any changes in policies, procedures, and/or staffing that might affect the quality or nature of field placements or this agreement.
6. Students:
   a. Status of students:
      i. the student possesses the status of social work learner.
      ii. the student, during Field Education, is subject to the same standards as are set for employees at the Agency relating to the welfare of clients.
      iii. the student is expected to adhere to the National Association of Social Workers Code of Ethics, the Social Work Program Student Code of Conduct and conform to the standards and practices of the Agency.

7. Grievance:
   a. The Agency and the Social Work Program agree to utilize the grievance process established by the Social Work Program in the event a student feels he/she has been unjustly treated during the field placement. A copy of the process will be in the Field Education Handbook provided to all Agency Instructors and students.

8. Non-Discrimination Statement:
   Viterbo University is committed to providing equal educational and employment opportunities regardless of age, race, religion, color, handicap, sex, physical condition, developmental disability, sexual orientation, or national origin in compliance with Title VI, Title IX, and Section 504.

   This document certifies that the agency named below does not discriminate in its employment practices or in its service delivery practices on the basis of race, color, creed, national origin, age, gender, or disability.

Anticipated Weekly Schedule: Monday _________ Tuesday _________ Wednesday _________ Thursday _________ Friday _________

Instructions for using the Learning Contract:

- The Learning Contract is composed of ten social work competencies and corresponding practice behaviors that the student will learn in their social work practice in the field agency.
- The student and Agency Instructor identify specific tasks or activities that will enable the student to use each practice behavior in their field education.
- One activity may incorporate several practice behaviors. For examples see page 11.
- The Agency instructor evaluates the student at midterm and final on their practice behavior development using the evaluation scale below.
- A formal Learning Contract evaluation takes place with the Agency Instructor, Task Supervisor and student prior to the midterm and final evaluation meeting with the Faculty Liaison. During the midterm and final evaluation meeting the Agency Instructor, student and Faculty Liaison discuss the student’s progress in each of the ten competencies.
- The Student is responsible for returning the original Learning Contract electronically with the signed signature pages 1 and 10 to the Faculty Liaison at the end of the semester.

Instructions for Rating Students using the Social Work Core Competencies:

At the beginning of the practicum and through midterm the student is evaluated as a senior student learning and practicing beginning social work. By the end of the practicum, the evaluation is based on the practice of a new beginning-level social worker. The ten core competencies and corresponding practice behaviors of the Learning Contract were established by our national accrediting organization, the Council on Social Work Education and adopted as a program evaluation instrument of the Viterbo University Social Work Program. Under each competency statement are the corresponding practice behaviors that we ask that you rate using the following criteria.

Comments may be made under any competency statement or practice behavior. Please be sure to indicate those areas in which you think the student is particularly strong and those areas that need improvement. This evaluation is crucial to the student’s field education. Your evaluation, both the ratings and identification of strengths and areas of improvement is essential to the student’s developing practice of social work. The agency instructor’s rating of these items will not directly be used to calculate the grade that is given to the student. The faculty liaison has the responsibility of assigning the grade for the course. If you prefer to use another evaluation system in addition to this form to evaluate a student’s performance, please discuss with the faculty liaison.
Please evaluate the student’s competency using the following criteria:

5 Excellent: The student demonstrates this practice behavior with a high degree of competence; behavior is well integrated into social work practice.

4 Above Average: The student demonstrates consistent growth and development of this practice behavior; functions with better-than-average competence in this area.

3 Average: The student meets minimum competency expectations for this practice behavior and is working on improvement.

2 Below Average: The student is aware but is having difficulties in developing this practice behavior; demonstrates minimal evidence of competence, growth and change.

1 Absence of Development: The student has not developed this practice behavior despite the availability of opportunities to do so.

| Competence #1: Student identifies as a professional social worker and conducts oneself accordingly. |
|---|---|---|
| Practice Behaviors | Activities | Use the 1-5 rating scale to indicate the level of practice in each behavior |
| | | Mid-Term | Final |
| 1.1 | 1. Advocates for client access to the services of social work |  |
| 1.2 | 2. Practices personal reflection and self-correction to assure continual professional development |  |
| 1.3 | 3. Attends to professional roles and boundaries |  |
| 1.4 | 4. Demonstrates professional demeanor in appearance, demeanor and communication |  |
| 1.5 | 5. Engages in career-long learning |  |
| 1.6 | 6. Uses supervision and consultation effectively |  |

Comments:
Please evaluate competency using criteria on pg. 3:

Excellent  4 Above Average  3 Average  2 Below Average  1 Absence of Development

NA  Midterm Only  Student has not had the opportunity to demonstrate competence in this area, a plan is developed to implement competency in second half of practicum.

MIDTERM EVALUATION Please check one of the following at the midterm evaluation:

☐ This student is substantially meeting the expectations of a student in field education.
☐ This student is meeting the expectations of students in field education.
☐ This student is functioning below the expectations of a student in field education and is at risk of receiving a grade of No Credit for this course without substantial improvement. There is a question whether this student will be ready for beginning level social work practice by the end of placement. The student will develop a plan of action within one week of midterm evaluation to address concerns.
☐ This student is functioning substantially below the expectations of a field placement student and will likely receive a grade of No Credit for this course. There is considerable concern that this student will not be ready for beginning level social work practice by the end of placement. This student should consider dropping this course and evaluate her/his suitability for the social work profession. If the student chooses to continue in this course, the student will develop a plan of action within one week to address concerns and meet weekly with the Field Education Director for the remainder of the course.

FINAL EVALUATION Please check on of the following at the final evaluation:

☐ This student has excelled in field placement by performing above expectations for students. If an appropriate position were open at this agency, for a beginning level social worker, this student would be considered among the candidates for this position.
☐ This student has substantially met the expectations of a student in field education and would receive a strong recommendation for beginning level social work practice.
☐ This student has met the expectations of the field placement. This student is ready for beginning level social work practice.
☐ This student is not yet ready for beginning level social work practice.
☐ This student is not yet ready for beginning level social work practice, and has demonstrated serious concerns in performance, and should reassess suitability for the social work profession.

☐ If the student disagrees with the evaluation she/he should state that disagreement in writing and submit a copy to both the agency instructor and the faculty liaison. A meeting between the student, agency instructor, Field Director and faculty liaison will then be held to discuss the practicum.
Code of Ethics of the National Association of Social Workers

Approved by the 1996 NASW Delegate Assembly and revised by the 2008 NASW Delegate Assembly.
(The following is not the entire code of Ethics. It does not include the “Preamble” nor the “Statement of Purpose.”)

Ethical Principles
The following broad ethical principles are based on social work’s core values of service, social justice, dignity and worth of the person, importance of human relationships, integrity, and competence. These principles set forth ideals to which all social workers should aspire.

VALUE: Service
Ethical Principle: Social workers’ primary goal is to help people in need and to address social problems. Social workers elevate service to others above self-interest. Social workers draw on their knowledge, values, and skills to help people in need and to address social problems. Social workers are encouraged to volunteer some portion of their professional skills with no expectation of significant financial return (pro bono service).

VALUE: Social Justice
Ethical Principle: Social workers challenge social injustice. Social workers pursue social change, particularly with and on behalf of vulnerable and oppressed individuals and groups of people. Social workers’ social change efforts are focused primarily on issues of poverty, unemployment, discrimination, and other forms of social injustice. These activities seek to promote sensitivity to and knowledge about oppression and cultural and ethnic diversity. Social workers strive to ensure access to needed information, services, and resources; equality of opportunity; and meaningful participation in decision making for all people.

VALUE: Dignity and Worth of the Person
Ethical Principle: Social workers respect the inherent dignity and worth of the person. Social workers treat each person in a caring and respectful fashion, mindful of individual differences and cultural and ethnic diversity. Social workers promote clients’ socially responsible self-determination. Social workers seek to enhance clients’ capacity and opportunity to change and to address their own needs. Social workers are cognizant of their dual responsibility to clients and to the broader society. They seek to resolve conflicts between clients’ interests and the broader society’s interests in a socially responsible manner consistent with the values, ethical principles, and ethical standards of the profession.

VALUE: Importance of Human Relationships
Ethical Principle: Social workers recognize the central importance of human relationships. Social workers understand that relationships between and among people are an important vehicle for change. Social workers engage people as partners in the helping process. Social workers seek to strengthen relationships among people in a purposeful effort to promote, restore, maintain, and enhance the well-being of individuals, families, social groups, organizations, and communities.

VALUE: Integrity
Ethical Principle: Social workers behave in a trustworthy manner. Social workers are continually aware of the profession’s mission, values, ethical principles, and ethical standards and practice in a manner consistent with them. Social workers act honestly and responsibly and promote ethical practices on the part of the organizations with which they are affiliated.

VALUE: Competence
Ethical Principle: Social workers practice within their areas of competence and develop and enhance their professional expertise. Social workers continually strive to increase their professional knowledge and skills and to apply them in practice. Social workers should aspire to contribute to the knowledge base of the profession.
Ethical Standards
The following ethical standards are relevant to the professional activities of all social workers. These standards concern (1) social workers’ ethical responsibilities to clients, (2) social workers’ ethical responsibilities to colleagues, (3) social workers’ ethical responsibilities in practice settings, (4) social workers’ ethical responsibilities as professionals, (5) social workers’ ethical responsibilities to the social work profession, and (6) social workers’ ethical responsibilities to the broader society.

Some of the standards that follow are enforceable guidelines for professional conduct, and some are aspirational. The extent to which each standard is enforceable is a matter of professional judgment to be exercised by those responsible for reviewing alleged violations of ethical standards.

1. Social Workers’ Ethical Responsibilities to Clients
1.01 Commitment to Clients
Social workers’ primary responsibility is to promote the well-being of clients. In general, clients’ interests are primary. However, social workers’ responsibility to the larger society or specific legal obligations may on limited occasions supersede the loyalty owed clients, and clients should be so advised. (Examples include when a social worker is required by law to report that a client has abused a child or has threatened to harm self or others.)

1.02 Self-Determination
Social workers respect and promote the right of clients to self-determination and assist clients in their efforts to identify and clarify their goals. Social workers may limit clients’ right to self-determination when, in the social workers’ professional judgment, clients’ actions or potential actions pose a serious, foreseeable, and imminent risk to themselves or others.

1.03 Informed Consent
(a) Social workers should provide services to clients only in the context of a professional relationship based, when appropriate, on valid informed consent. Social workers should use clear and understandable language to inform clients of the purpose of the services, risks related to the services, limits to services because of the requirements of a third-party payer, relevant costs, reasonable alternatives, clients’ right to refuse or withdraw consent, and the time frame covered by the consent. Social workers should provide clients with an opportunity to ask questions.

(b) In instances when clients are not literate or have difficulty understanding the primary language used in the practice setting, social workers should take steps to ensure clients’ comprehension. This may include providing clients with a detailed verbal explanation or arranging for a qualified interpreter or translator whenever possible.

(c) In instances when clients lack the capacity to provide informed consent, social workers should protect clients’ interests by seeking permission from an appropriate third party, informing clients consistent with the clients’ level of understanding. In such instances social workers should seek to ensure that the third party acts in a manner consistent with clients’ wishes and interests. Social workers should take reasonable steps to enhance such clients’ ability to give informed consent.

(d) In instances when clients are receiving services involuntarily, social workers should provide information about the nature and extent of services and about the extent of clients’ right to refuse service.

(e) Social workers who provide services via electronic media (such as computer, telephone, radio, and television) should inform recipients of the limitations and risks associated with such services.

(f) Social workers should obtain clients’ informed consent before audiotaping or videotaping clients or permitting observation of services to clients by a third party.

1.04 Competence
(a) Social workers should provide services and represent themselves as competent only within the boundaries of their education, training, license, certification, consultation received, supervised experience, or other relevant professional experience.

(b) Social workers should provide services in substantive areas or use intervention techniques or approaches that are new to them only after engaging in appropriate study, training, consultation, and supervision from people who are competent in those interventions or techniques.
(c) When generally recognized standards do not exist with respect to an emerging area of practice, social workers should exercise careful judgment and take responsible steps (including appropriate education, research, training, consultation, and supervision) to ensure the competence of their work and to protect clients from harm.

1.05 Cultural Competence and Social Diversity

(a) Social workers should understand culture and its function in human behavior and society, recognizing the strengths that exist in all cultures.

(b) Social workers should have a knowledge base of their clients’ cultures and be able to demonstrate competence in the provision of services that are sensitive to clients’ cultures and to differences among people and cultural groups.

(c) Social workers should obtain education about and seek to understand the nature of social diversity and oppression with respect to race, ethnicity, national origin, color, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, age, marital status, political belief, religion, immigration status, and mental or physical disability.

1.06 Conflicts of Interest

(a) Social workers should be alert to and avoid conflicts of interest that interfere with the exercise of professional discretion and impartial judgment. Social workers should inform clients when a real or potential conflict of interest arises and take reasonable steps to resolve the issue in a manner that makes the clients’ interests primary and protects clients’ interests to the greatest extent possible. In some cases, protecting clients’ interests may require termination of the professional relationship with proper referral of the client.

(b) Social workers should not take unfair advantage of any professional relationship or exploit others to further their personal, religious, political, or business interests.

(c) Social workers should not engage in dual or multiple relationships with clients or former clients in which there is a risk of exploitation or potential harm to the client. In instances when dual or multiple relationships are unavoidable, social workers should take steps to protect clients and are responsible for setting clear, appropriate, and culturally sensitive boundaries. (Dual or multiple relationships occur when social workers relate to clients in more than one relationship, whether professional, social, or business. Dual or multiple relationships can occur simultaneously or consecutively.)

(d) When social workers provide services to two or more people who have a relationship with each other (for example, couples, family members), social workers should clarify with all parties which individuals will be considered clients and the nature of social workers’ professional obligations to the various individuals who are receiving services. Social workers who anticipate a conflict of interest among the individuals receiving services or who anticipate having to perform in potentially conflicting roles (for example, when a social worker is asked to testify in a child custody dispute or divorce proceedings involving clients) should clarify their role with the parties involved and take appropriate action to minimize any conflict of interest.

1.07 Privacy and Confidentiality

(a) Social workers should respect clients’ right to privacy. Social workers should not solicit private information from clients unless it is essential to providing services or conducting social work evaluation or research. Once private information is shared, standards of confidentiality apply.

(b) Social workers may disclose confidential information when appropriate with valid consent from a client or a person legally authorized to consent on behalf of a client.

(c) Social workers should protect the confidentiality of all information obtained in the course of professional service, except for compelling professional reasons. The general expectation that social workers will keep information confidential does not apply when disclosure is necessary to prevent serious, foreseeable, and imminent harm to a client or other identifiable person. In all instances, social workers should disclose the least amount of confidential information necessary to achieve the desired purpose; only information that is directly relevant to the purpose for which the disclosure is made should be revealed.

(d) Social workers should inform clients, to the extent possible, about the disclosure of confidential information and the potential consequences, when feasible before the disclosure is made. This applies whether social workers disclose confidential information on the basis of a legal requirement or client consent.
(e) Social workers should discuss with clients and other interested parties the nature of confidentiality and limitations of clients’ right to confidentiality. Social workers should review with clients circumstances where confidential information may be requested and where disclosure of confidential information may be legally required. This discussion should occur as soon as possible in the social worker-client relationship and as needed throughout the course of the relationship.

(f) When social workers provide counseling services to families, couples, or groups, social workers should seek agreement among the parties involved concerning each individual’s right to confidentiality and obligation to preserve the confidentiality of information shared by others. Social workers should inform participants in family, couples, or group counseling that social workers cannot guarantee that all participants will honor such agreements.

(g) Social workers should inform clients involved in family, couples, marital, or group counseling of the social worker’s, employer’s, and agency’s policy concerning the social worker’s disclosure of confidential information among the parties involved in the counseling.

(h) Social workers should not disclose confidential information to third-party payers unless clients have authorized such disclosure.

(i) Social workers should not discuss confidential information in any setting unless privacy can be ensured. Social workers should not discuss confidential information in public or semipublic areas such as hallways, waiting rooms, elevators, and restaurants.

(j) Social workers should protect the confidentiality of clients during legal proceedings to the extent permitted by law. When a court of law or other legally authorized body orders social workers to disclose confidential or privileged information without a client’s consent and such disclosure could cause harm to the client, social workers should request that the court withdraw the order or limit the order as narrowly as possible or maintain the records under seal, unavailable for public inspection.

(k) Social workers should protect the confidentiality of clients when responding to requests from members of the media.

(l) Social workers should protect the confidentiality of clients’ written and electronic records and other sensitive information. Social workers should take reasonable steps to ensure that clients’ records are stored in a secure location and that clients’ records are not available to others who are not authorized to have access.

(m) Social workers should take precautions to ensure and maintain the confidentiality of information transmitted to other parties through the use of computers, electronic mail, facsimile machines, telephones and telephone answering machines, and other electronic or computer technology. Disclosure of identifying information should be avoided whenever possible.

(n) Social workers should transfer or dispose of clients’ records in a manner that protects clients’ confidentiality and is consistent with state statutes governing records and social work licensure.

(o) Social workers should take reasonable precautions to protect client confidentiality in the event of the social worker’s termination of practice, incapacitation, or death.

(p) Social workers should not disclose identifying information when discussing clients for teaching or training purposes unless the client has consented to disclosure of confidential information.

(q) Social workers should not disclose identifying information when discussing clients with consultants unless the client has consented to disclosure of confidential information or there is a compelling need for such disclosure.

(r) Social workers should protect the confidentiality of deceased clients consistent with the preceding standards.

1.08 Access to Records

(a) Social workers should provide clients with reasonable access to records concerning the clients. Social workers who are concerned that clients’ access to their records could cause serious misunderstanding or harm to the client should provide assistance in interpreting the records and consultation with the client regarding the records. Social workers should limit clients’ access to their records, or portions of their records, only in exceptional circumstances when there is compelling evidence that such access would cause serious harm to the client. Both clients’ requests and the rationale for withholding some or all of the record should be documented in clients’ files.
(b) When providing clients with access to their records, social workers should take steps to protect the confidentiality of other individuals identified or discussed in such records.

1.09 Sexual Relationships
(a) Social workers should under no circumstances engage in sexual activities or sexual contact with current clients, whether such contact is consensual or forced.
(b) Social workers should not engage in sexual activities or sexual contact with clients’ relatives or other individuals with whom clients maintain a close personal relationship when there is a risk of exploitation or potential harm to the client. Sexual activity or sexual contact with clients’ relatives or other individuals with whom clients maintain a personal relationship has the potential to be harmful to the client and may make it difficult for the social worker and client to maintain appropriate professional boundaries. Social workers—not their clients, their clients’ relatives, or other individuals with whom the client maintains a personal relationship—assume the full burden for setting clear, appropriate, and culturally sensitive boundaries.
(c) Social workers should not engage in sexual activities or sexual contact with former clients because of the potential for harm to the client. If social workers engage in conduct contrary to this prohibition or claim that an exception to this prohibition is warranted because of extraordinary circumstances, it is social workers—not their clients—who assume the full burden of demonstrating that the former client has not been exploited, coerced, or manipulated, intentionally or unintentionally.
(d) Social workers should not provide clinical services to individuals with whom they have had a prior sexual relationship. Providing clinical services to a former sexual partner has the potential to be harmful to the individual and is likely to make it difficult for the social worker and individual to maintain appropriate professional boundaries.

1.10 Physical Contact
Social workers should not engage in physical contact with clients when there is a possibility of psychological harm to the client as a result of the contact (such as cradling or caressing clients). Social workers who engage in appropriate physical contact with clients are responsible for setting clear, appropriate, and culturally sensitive boundaries that govern such physical contact.

1.11 Sexual Harassment
Social workers should not sexually harass clients. Sexual harassment includes sexual advances, sexual solicitation, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature.

1.12 Derogatory Language
Social workers should not use derogatory language in their written or verbal communications to or about clients. Social workers should use accurate and respectful language in all communications to and about clients.

1.13 Payment for Services
(a) When setting fees, social workers should ensure that the fees are fair, reasonable, and commensurate with the services performed. Consideration should be given to clients’ ability to pay.
(b) Social workers should avoid accepting goods or services from clients as payment for professional services. Bartering arrangements, particularly involving services, create the potential for conflicts of interest, exploitation, and inappropriate boundaries in social workers’ relationships with clients. Social workers should explore and may participate in bartering only in very limited circumstances when it can be demonstrated that such arrangements are an accepted practice among professionals in the local community, considered to be essential for the provision of services, negotiated without coercion, and entered into at the client’s initiative and with the client’s informed consent. Social workers who accept goods or services from clients as payment for professional services assume the full burden of demonstrating that this arrangement will not be detrimental to the client or the professional relationship.
(c) Social workers should not solicit a private fee or other remuneration for providing services to clients who are entitled to such available services through the social workers’ employer or agency.

1.14 Clients Who Lack Decision-Making Capacity
When social workers act on behalf of clients who lack the capacity to make informed decisions, social workers should take reasonable steps to safeguard the interests and rights of those clients.

1.15 Interruption of Services
Social workers should make reasonable efforts to ensure continuity of services in the event that services are interrupted by factors such as unavailability, relocation, illness, disability, or death.
1.16 Termination of Services

(a) Social workers should terminate services to clients and professional relationships with them when such services and relationships are no longer required or no longer serve the clients’ needs or interests.

(b) Social workers should take reasonable steps to avoid abandoning clients who are still in need of services. Social workers should withdraw services precipitously only under unusual circumstances, giving careful consideration to all factors in the situation and taking care to minimize possible adverse effects. Social workers should assist in making appropriate arrangements for continuation of services when necessary.

(c) Social workers in fee-for-service settings may terminate services to clients who are not paying an overdue balance if the financial contractual arrangements have been made clear to the client, if the client does not pose an imminent danger to self or others, and if the clinical and other consequences of the current nonpayment have been addressed and discussed with the client.

(d) Social workers should not terminate services to pursue a social, financial, or sexual relationship with a client.

(e) Social workers who anticipate the termination or interruption of services to clients should notify clients promptly and seek the transfer, referral, or continuation of services in relation to the clients’ needs and preferences.

(f) Social workers who are leaving an employment setting should inform clients of appropriate options for the continuation of services and of the benefits and risks of the options.

2. Social Workers’ Ethical Responsibilities to Colleagues

2.01 Respect

(a) Social workers should treat colleagues with respect and should represent accurately and fairly the qualifications, views, and obligations of colleagues.

(b) Social workers should avoid unwarranted negative criticism of colleagues in communications with clients or with other professionals. Unwarranted negative criticism may include demeaning comments that refer to colleagues’ level of competence or to individuals’ attributes such as race, ethnicity, national origin, color, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, age, marital status, political belief, religion, immigration status, and mental or physical disability.

2.02 Confidentiality

Social workers should respect confidential information shared by colleagues in the course of their professional relationships and transactions. Social workers should ensure that such colleagues understand social workers’ obligation to respect confidentiality and any exceptions related to it.

2.03 Interdisciplinary Collaboration

(a) Social workers who are members of an interdisciplinary team should participate in and contribute to decisions that affect the well-being of clients by drawing on the perspectives, values, and experiences of the social work profession. Professional and ethical obligations of the interdisciplinary team as a whole and of its individual members should be clearly established.

(b) Social workers for whom a team decision raises ethical concerns should attempt to resolve the disagreement through appropriate channels. If the disagreement cannot be resolved, social workers should pursue other avenues to address their concerns consistent with client well-being.

2.04 Disputes Involving Colleagues

(a) Social workers should not take advantage of a dispute between a colleague and an employer to obtain a position or otherwise advance the social workers’ own interests.

(b) Social workers should not exploit clients in disputes with colleagues or engage clients in any inappropriate discussion of conflicts between social workers and their colleagues.

2.05 Consultation

(a) Social workers should seek the advice and counsel of colleagues whenever such consultation is in the best interests of clients.

(b) Social workers should keep themselves informed about colleagues’ areas of expertise and competencies. Social workers should seek consultation only from colleagues who have demonstrated knowledge, expertise, and competence related to the subject of the consultation.
(c) When consulting with colleagues about clients, social workers should disclose the least amount of information necessary to achieve the purposes of the consultation.

2.06 Referral for Services
(a) Social workers should refer clients to other professionals when the other professionals’ specialized knowledge or expertise is needed to serve clients fully or when social workers believe that they are not being effective or making reasonable progress with clients and that additional service is required.
(b) Social workers who refer clients to other professionals should take appropriate steps to facilitate an orderly transfer of responsibility. Social workers who refer clients to other professionals should disclose, with clients’ consent, all pertinent information to the new service providers.
(c) Social workers are prohibited from giving or receiving payment for a referral when no professional service is provided by the referring social worker.

2.07 Sexual Relationships
(a) Social workers who function as supervisors or educators should not engage in sexual activities or contact with supervisees, students, trainees, or other colleagues over whom they exercise professional authority.
(b) Social workers should avoid engaging in sexual relationships with colleagues when there is potential for a conflict of interest. Social workers who become involved in, or anticipate becoming involved in, a sexual relationship with a colleague have a duty to transfer professional responsibilities, when necessary, to avoid a conflict of interest.

2.08 Sexual Harassment
Social workers should not sexually harass supervisees, students, trainees, or colleagues. Sexual harassment includes sexual advances, sexual solicitation, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature.

2.09 Impairment of Colleagues
(a) Social workers who have direct knowledge of a social work colleague’s impairment that is due to personal problems, psychosocial distress, substance abuse, or mental health difficulties and that interferes with practice effectiveness should consult with that colleague when feasible and assist the colleague in taking remedial action.
(b) Social workers who believe that a social work colleague’s impairment interferes with practice effectiveness and that the colleague has not taken adequate steps to address the impairment should take action through appropriate channels established by employers, agencies, NASW, licensing and regulatory bodies, and other professional organizations.

2.10 Incompetence of Colleagues
(a) Social workers who have direct knowledge of a social work colleague’s incompetence should consult with that colleague when feasible and assist the colleague in taking remedial action.
(b) Social workers who believe that a social work colleague is incompetent and has not taken adequate steps to address the incompetence should take action through appropriate channels established by employers, agencies, NASW, licensing and regulatory bodies, and other professional organizations.

2.11 Unethical Conduct of Colleagues
(a) Social workers should take adequate measures to discourage, prevent, expose, and correct the unethical conduct of colleagues.
(b) Social workers should be knowledgeable about established policies and procedures for handling concerns about colleagues’ unethical behavior. Social workers should be familiar with national, state, and local procedures for handling ethics complaints. These include policies and procedures created by NASW, licensing and regulatory bodies, employers, agencies, and other professional organizations.
(c) Social workers who believe that a colleague has acted unethically should seek resolution by discussing their concerns with the colleague when feasible and when such discussion is likely to be productive.
(d) When necessary, social workers who believe that a colleague has acted unethically should take action through appropriate formal channels (such as contacting a state licensing board or regulatory body, an NASW committee on inquiry, or other professional ethics committees).
(e) Social workers should defend and assist colleagues who are unjustly charged with unethical conduct.
3. Social Workers’ Ethical Responsibilities in Practice Settings

3.01 Supervision and Consultation
(a) Social workers who provide supervision or consultation should have the necessary knowledge and skill to supervise or consult appropriately and should do so only within their areas of knowledge and competence.
(b) Social workers who provide supervision or consultation are responsible for setting clear, appropriate, and culturally sensitive boundaries.
(c) Social workers should not engage in any dual or multiple relationships with supervisees in which there is a risk of exploitation of or potential harm to the supervisee.
(d) Social workers who provide supervision should evaluate supervisees’ performance in a manner that is fair and respectful.

3.02 Education and Training
(a) Social workers who function as educators, field instructors for students, or trainers should provide instruction only within their areas of knowledge and competence and should provide instruction based on the most current information and knowledge available in the profession.
(b) Social workers who function as educators or field instructors for students should evaluate students’ performance in a manner that is fair and respectful.
(c) Social workers who function as educators or field instructors for students should take reasonable steps to ensure that clients are routinely informed when services are being provided by students.
(d) Social workers who function as educators or field instructors for students should not engage in any dual or multiple relationships with students in which there is a risk of exploitation or potential harm to the student. Social work educators and field instructors are responsible for setting clear, appropriate, and culturally sensitive boundaries.

3.03 Performance Evaluation
Social workers who have responsibility for evaluating the performance of others should fulfill such responsibility in a fair and considerate manner and on the basis of clearly stated criteria.

3.04 Client Records
(a) Social workers should take reasonable steps to ensure that documentation in records is accurate and reflects the services provided.
(b) Social workers should include sufficient and timely documentation in records to facilitate the delivery of services and to ensure continuity of services provided to clients in the future.
(c) Social workers’ documentation should protect clients’ privacy to the extent that is possible and appropriate and should include only information that is directly relevant to the delivery of services.
(d) Social workers should store records following the termination of services to ensure reasonable future access. Records should be maintained for the number of years required by state statutes or relevant contracts.

3.05 Billing
Social workers should establish and maintain billing practices that accurately reflect the nature and extent of services provided and that identify who provided the service in the practice setting.

3.06 Client Transfer
(a) When an individual who is receiving services from another agency or colleague contacts a social worker for services, the social worker should carefully consider the client’s needs before agreeing to provide services. To minimize possible confusion and conflict, social workers should discuss with potential clients the nature of the clients’ current relationship with other service providers and the implications, including possible benefits or risks, of entering into a relationship with a new service provider.
(b) If a new client has been served by another agency or colleague, social workers should discuss with the client whether consultation with the previous service provider is in the client’s best interest.

3.07 Administration
(a) Social work administrators should advocate within and outside their agencies for adequate resources to meet clients’ needs.
(b) Social workers should advocate for resource allocation procedures that are open and fair. When not all clients’ needs can be met, an allocation procedure should be developed that is nondiscriminatory and based on appropriate and consistently applied principles.
(c) Social workers who are administrators should take reasonable steps to ensure that adequate agency or organizational resources are available to provide appropriate staff supervision.

(d) Social work administrators should take reasonable steps to ensure that the working environment for which they are responsible is consistent with and encourages compliance with the NASW Code of Ethics. Social work administrators should take reasonable steps to eliminate any conditions in their organizations that violate, interfere with, or discourage compliance with the Code.

3.08 Continuing Education and Staff Development

Social work administrators and supervisors should take reasonable steps to provide or arrange for continuing education and staff development for all staff for whom they are responsible. Continuing education and staff development should address current knowledge and emerging developments related to social work practice and ethics.

3.09 Commitments to Employers

(a) Social workers generally should adhere to commitments made to employers and employing organizations.

(b) Social workers should work to improve employing agencies’ policies and procedures and the efficiency and effectiveness of their services.

(c) Social workers should take reasonable steps to ensure that employers are aware of social workers’ ethical obligations as set forth in the NASW Code of Ethics and of the implications of those obligations for social work practice.

(d) Social workers should not allow an employing organization’s policies, procedures, regulations, or administrative orders to interfere with their ethical practice of social work. Social workers should take reasonable steps to ensure that their employing organizations’ practices are consistent with the NASW Code of Ethics.

(e) Social workers should act to prevent and eliminate discrimination in the employing organization’s work assignments and in its employment policies and practices.

(f) Social workers should accept employment or arrange student field placements only in organizations that exercise fair personnel practices.

(g) Social workers should be diligent stewards of the resources of their employing organizations, wisely conserving funds where appropriate and never misappropriating funds or using them for unintended purposes.

3.10 Labor-Management Disputes

(a) Social workers may engage in organized action, including the formation of and participation in labor unions, to improve services to clients and working conditions.

(b) The actions of social workers who are involved in labor-management disputes, job actions, or labor strikes should be guided by the profession’s values, ethical principles, and ethical standards. Reasonable differences of opinion exist among social workers concerning their primary obligation as professionals during an actual or threatened labor strike or job action. Social workers should carefully examine relevant issues and their possible impact on clients before deciding on a course of action.

4. Social Workers’ Ethical Responsibilities as Professionals

4.01 Competence

(a) Social workers should accept responsibility or employment only on the basis of existing competence or the intention to acquire the necessary competence.

(b) Social workers should strive to become and remain proficient in professional practice and the performance of professional functions. Social workers should critically examine and keep current with emerging knowledge relevant to social work. Social workers should routinely review the professional literature and participate in continuing education relevant to social work practice and social work ethics.

(c) Social workers should base practice on recognized knowledge, including empirically based knowledge, relevant to social work and social work ethics.

4.02 Discrimination

Social workers should not practice, condone, facilitate, or collaborate with any form of discrimination on the basis of race, ethnicity, national origin, color, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, age, marital status, political belief, religion, immigration status, or mental or physical disability.

4.03 Private Conduct
Social workers should not permit their private conduct to interfere with their ability to fulfill their professional responsibilities.

4.04 Dishonesty, Fraud, and Deception
Social workers should not participate in, condone, or be associated with dishonesty, fraud, or deception.

4.05 Impairment
(a) Social workers should not allow their own personal problems, psychosocial distress, legal problems, substance abuse, or mental health difficulties to interfere with their professional judgment and performance or to jeopardize the best interests of people for whom they have a professional responsibility.
(b) Social workers whose personal problems, psychosocial distress, legal problems, substance abuse, or mental health difficulties interfere with their professional judgment and performance should immediately seek consultation and take appropriate remedial action by seeking professional help, making adjustments in workload, terminating practice, or taking any other steps necessary to protect clients and others.

4.06 Misrepresentation
(a) Social workers should make clear distinctions between statements made and actions engaged in as a private individual and as a representative of the social work profession, a professional social work organization, or the social worker’s employing agency.
(b) Social workers who speak on behalf of professional social work organizations should accurately represent the official and authorized positions of the organizations.
(c) Social workers should ensure that their representations to clients, agencies, and the public of professional qualifications, credentials, education, competence, affiliations, services provided, or results to be achieved are accurate. Social workers should claim only those relevant professional credentials they actually possess and take steps to correct any inaccuracies or misrepresentations of their credentials by others.

4.07 Solicitations
(a) Social workers should not engage in uninvited solicitation of potential clients who, because of their circumstances, are vulnerable to undue influence, manipulation, or coercion.
(b) Social workers should not engage in solicitation of testimonial endorsements (including solicitation of consent to use a client’s prior statement as a testimonial endorsement) from current clients or from other people who, because of their particular circumstances, are vulnerable to undue influence.

4.08 Acknowledging Credit
(a) Social workers should take responsibility and credit, including authorship credit, only for work they have actually performed and to which they have contributed.
(b) Social workers should honestly acknowledge the work of and the contributions made by others.

5. Social Workers’ Ethical Responsibilities to the Social Work Profession

5.01 Integrity of the Profession
(a) Social workers should work toward the maintenance and promotion of high standards of practice.
(b) Social workers should uphold and advance the values, ethics, knowledge, and mission of the profession. Social workers should protect, enhance, and improve the integrity of the profession through appropriate study and research, active discussion, and responsible criticism of the profession.
(c) Social workers should contribute time and professional expertise to activities that promote respect for the value, integrity, and competence of the social work profession. These activities may include teaching, research, consultation, service, legislative testimony, presentations in the community, and participation in their professional organizations.
(d) Social workers should contribute to the knowledge base of social work and share with colleagues their knowledge related to practice, research, and ethics. Social workers should seek to contribute to the profession’s literature and to share their knowledge at professional meetings and conferences.
(e) Social workers should act to prevent the unauthorized and unqualified practice of social work.

5.02 Evaluation and Research
(a) Social workers should monitor and evaluate policies, the implementation of programs, and practice interventions.
(b) Social workers should promote and facilitate evaluation and research to contribute to the development of knowledge.
Social workers should critically examine and keep current with emerging knowledge relevant to social work and fully use evaluation and research evidence in their professional practice.

Social workers engaged in evaluation or research should carefully consider possible consequences and should follow guidelines developed for the protection of evaluation and research participants. Appropriate institutional review boards should be consulted.

Social workers engaged in evaluation or research should obtain voluntary and written informed consent from participants, when appropriate, without any implied or actual deprivation or penalty for refusal to participate; without undue inducement to participate; and with due regard for participants’ well-being, privacy, and dignity. Informed consent should include information about the nature, extent, and duration of the participation requested and disclosure of the risks and benefits of participation in the research.

When evaluation or research participants are incapable of giving informed consent, social workers should provide an appropriate explanation to the participants, obtain the participants’ assent to the extent they are able, and obtain written consent from an appropriate proxy.

Social workers should never design or conduct evaluation or research that does not use consent procedures, such as certain forms of naturalistic observation and archival research, unless rigorous and responsible review of the research has found it to be justified because of its prospective scientific, educational, or applied value and unless equally effective alternative procedures that do not involve waiver of consent are not feasible.

Social workers should inform participants of their right to withdraw from evaluation and research at any time without penalty.

Social workers should take appropriate steps to ensure that participants in evaluation and research have access to appropriate supportive services.

Social workers engaged in evaluation or research should protect participants from unwarranted physical or mental distress, harm, danger, or deprivation.

Social workers engaged in the evaluation of services should discuss collected information only for professional purposes and only with people professionally concerned with this information.

Social workers engaged in evaluation or research should ensure the anonymity or confidentiality of participants and of the data obtained from them. Social workers should inform participants of any limits of confidentiality, the measures that will be taken to ensure confidentiality, and when any records containing research data will be destroyed.

Social workers who report evaluation and research results should protect participants’ confidentiality by omitting identifying information unless proper consent has been obtained authorizing disclosure.

Social workers should report evaluation and research findings accurately. They should not fabricate or falsify results and should take steps to correct any errors later found in published data using standard publication methods.

Social workers engaged in evaluation or research should be alert to and avoid conflicts of interest and dual relationships with participants, should inform participants when a real or potential conflict of interest arises, and should take steps to resolve the issue in a manner that makes participants’ interests primary.

Social workers should educate themselves, their students, and their colleagues about responsible research practices.

6. Social Workers’ Ethical Responsibilities to the Broader Society

6.01 Social Welfare
Social workers should promote the general welfare of society, from local to global levels, and the development of people, their communities, and their environments. Social workers should advocate for living conditions conducive to the fulfillment of basic human needs and should promote social, economic, political, and cultural values and institutions that are compatible with the realization of social justice.

6.02 Public Participation
Social workers should facilitate informed participation by the public in shaping social policies and institutions.

6.03 Public Emergencies
Social workers should provide appropriate professional services in public emergencies to the greatest extent possible.

6.04 Social and Political Action
(a) Social workers should engage in social and political action that seeks to ensure that all people have equal access to the resources, employment, services, and opportunities they require to meet their basic human needs and to develop fully. Social workers should be aware of the impact of the political arena on practice and should advocate for changes in policy and legislation to improve social conditions in order to meet basic human needs and promote social justice.

(b) Social workers should act to expand choice and opportunity for all people, with special regard for vulnerable, disadvantaged, oppressed, and exploited people and groups.

(c) Social workers should promote conditions that encourage respect for cultural and social diversity within the United States and globally. Social workers should promote policies and practices that demonstrate respect for difference, support the expansion of cultural knowledge and resources, advocate for programs and institutions that demonstrate cultural competence, and promote policies that safeguard the rights of and confirm equity and social justice for all people.

(d) Social workers should act to prevent and eliminate domination of, exploitation of, and discrimination against any person, group, or class on the basis of race, ethnicity, national origin, color, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, age, marital status, political belief, religion, immigration status, or mental or physical disability.
